I want a quick summary of the test being performed. This should include what component is being tested, what it is being tested for, and what is expected to occur. Also make sure to talk about any testing equipment being used and who is the personnel that is trained to use it properly. Provide any safety issues that you see has a possibility of arising. Also how you are going to try to mitigate that issue. The plan is to include these somewhere in the safety section to show extra documentation of testing and safety precautions we are taking.
